City services and the school. Rev. Mervin M. Deems, Young People's Meeting at 6 p. m.

About thirty-five men held a get-together at the home of Mrs. J. W. Deems, for sociability and to create enthusiasm for the reorganization of the Rideout Club that ceased to function some time ago. The meeting was held at 7:30 p. m. after which Dr. A. W. Easton, president of the former club, took the chair and opened the informal program with two selections by Fred Partridge, Jr., pianist. Mr. Partridge, accompanied by Genele Burnell, drums. The matter of forming another Rideout Club was mentioned. On a motion of Philip F. Stone, seconded by Fred Partridge, Jr., appointed by the chair, the following were named for that purpose: Philip F. Stone, Fred E. Smith and L. Fred Pike. The first speaker, Rev. Rensel H. Colby, of South Paris, spoke in a humorous vein and paved the way for Rev. Mervin M. Deems, who spoke interestingly about the club and its recent work in Japan and China gained on his recent world tour.

and Dr. Easton's team won over Rensel College's stars to the tune of 3-1. Fred Buehler was the hero.

Preparations are under way for the annual Christmas pageant at the Congregational church, Sunday, Dec. 25, at 4:30 o'clock p. m., "O Come Let Us Adore Him" is the title and depicts the biblical events attendant upon the birth of the Christ child. An elaborate program has been mapped out with a large cast of characters, both young and old. A large vested choir, special lighting fixtures, the title and tableaux. Everything is being done to bring this beautiful story to you in all of its wondrous glory. The cast and all particulars will be printed in next weeks issue of the advertiser.

There will be a special music at the Sunday morning service on Dec. 18.

Universalist

Rev. Conrad B. Rheiner, the minister, will preach on "Religion—Natural to Man", the third in the present series of "Common Sense" talks on "Christianity" at the 10 o'clock service next Sunday morning. The Universalist vest

Sunday: Morning worship at 10:45, with sermon by the Pastor. Soloists, Harold Raskall and Chester Gault. Bible School at 13, evening meeting at 7.

Rehearsals for Christmas exercises will be held by the Sunday school this week and next on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

Christ Episcopal Church

Fourth Sunday in Advent, Sunday School, 10 a. m. Morning prayer and sermon, 10:45 a. m. L. M. Thorneike of Portland will be in charge.

Methodist

Sunday night, twenty-seven members were present at Epworth League. They also looked for seven new members. Leaders for next Sunday will be O. P. Brooks. Everyone is welcome.

The Epworth League held a business meeting, Tuesday evening, at Mrs. Florence Card's home at 7:30, with good attendance.

METHODIST CHURCH DRAMA

After the success of the 1932 production of the "Old Fashioned Mother" and the apparent interest shown by the packed house, which greeted the players, rehearsals are in full swing for another drama. After careful consideration of several plays, "Mary Made Some Marmalade", a royalty drama, was chosen. "Mary Made Some Marmalade" is one set three act performance, with a cast of twelve players, clean, neat and altogether wholesome, entertaining and pleasing; the author has blended lines and situations in one harmonious theme. The dominant thought is mother love and portrays that constant unwavering devotion, through suffering and sorrow, hardship and toil, that God given bless-to fire, this drama has its comic situations as well as its tragedies and pathos. Studied by many little theatre groups and guilds, "Mass. Made Some Mann-alade" has never failed to merit the flattering press comments it has received and should prove no exception in Norway with the splendid cast secured. The production will be staged early in the new year, 1933, at Norway Grange Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Fletcher of Lynn, Mass., who have been visiting their son in Philadelphia, have come to Norway and will spend the winter with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Maford Mann.

TOMORROW
CHEVROLET
PRESENTS A NEW SIX

Longer • Larger • Faster • Smoother • New in Styling • More Economical • And Featuring
Fisher No-Draft Ventilation

TOMORROW will be Chevrolet Day throughout America. And the new car that millions have been watching and waiting for—the latest product of the world's leading builder of automobiles—will go on display: the New Chevrolet Six—at a new scale of low prices. Front, side, rear—inside, outside—everything about this new car is advanced, improved, exciting. Longer wheelbase makes it the biggest automobile in today's low-price field. The latest principle of car design, "Aer-Stream" styling, gives it a totally different, ultra-modern appearance. The new Fisher bodies are larger, wider—faultlessly streamlined—swung lower to the road—and offer the first basic improvement in travel comfort in over ten years: Fisher No-Draft Ventilation. Chevrolet performance in every gear is faster, flashier, more brilliant. The time-proved six-cylinder engine is more powerful as well as more economical. Improved Free Wheeling is combined with a "silent second" Synchro-Mesh gear-shift. Chevrolet engineers have developed a remarkable new invention that wins a complete victory over vibration: The Cushion-Balanced Engine Mounting. And as far as prices are concerned, several models now sell at the lowest figures in Chevrolet history. Chevrolet is able to do all this because Chevrolet has the advantage of being the world's largest builder of cars for 4 out of the past 6 years. Chevrolet builds cars in greater volume—buys materials in greater quantities—does everything on a bigger, more economical scale. Hence, Chevrolet is in a position to provide a better car at a better price than could possibly issue from any other source. The leader can accomplish what others dare not try! CHEVROLET MOTOR COMPANY, DETROIT, MICHIGAN

NOTES FROM COUNTY EXTENSION WORK

D. H. Ridley, County Agent; Gilberta P. Watters, County Club Agent; Ada Brewster, Home Demonstration Agent

OUR KITCHEN

Our kitchen was a 10 ft. by 10 ft. room. In this room was a sink, a stove, a refrigerator, a cupboard, a table, and a chair. The kitchen was a fair sample of the average kitchen in the county. It was a roomy kitchen with one window in the wall, and a door leading to the back porch. The kitchen was a fair sample of the average kitchen in the county. It was a roomy kitchen with one window in the wall, and a door leading to the back porch. The kitchen was a fair sample of the average kitchen in the county. It was a roomy kitchen with one window in the wall, and a door leading to the back porch.

Our State contest is at the University of Maine, Orono, on December 20, 21, and 22. Local leaders, assistant leaders, and county champions are eligible to attend. Every county champion (seniors) must exhibit (except livestock and poultry). The exhibit requirements are the same as for local and county contests.

Prune Variety
3 cups cake crumbs, 1-2 c. whipped cream, 1-2 c. prune pulp, 1-2 teaspr. orange or lemon extract.
Cooked or canned prunes. Combine the fruit and cake and beat until they make a light paste. Fold in the stiffly whipped cream and extract. No additional sugar is needed if prunes and cream are sweetened.

In the State Kitchen Improvement Contest entries were, for the owner of the kitchen, a more convenient and attractive kitchen than she had before, with all the improvements that it brings, says Edna M. Cobb, home management specialist for the Extension Service. To the four most deserving kitchens, however, will go four cash prizes of $20, $15, $10 and $5. These awards will be made on the basis of improvements made, the cost involved, and a brief written statement by the owner of the kitchen, describing the improvements made.

"The sooner you enroll, the sooner the home demonstration agent can get around to score your kitchen, so you can get to work on it, for October 31, 1933, the closing date of the contest. It is less than a year away, and it takes time to get things done."

Husbands can help their wives by lending their assistance with hammer, saw and paint brush. In fact, "Making the most improvements at the least expense is the spirit back of the contest. You win anyway, and you may win twice!" Two women in Oxford County have already enrolled: Mrs. Charles Clifton, Bethel, and Mrs. Elmer Bold, Fryeburg. The contest is open to any home-maker residing in a rural district, but she must enroll before March 31, 1933. Enrollment cards may be obtained from the County Farm Bureau Office, South Paris, or from any local Home Management Project Leader.

Oxford County Winners in State Seed Show
Beans
Fourth—Richard Sturtevant, Buckfield; Chester DeCoster, West Sumner.
Canning
Second—Shirley DeCoster, South Paris; Third—Dorothy Emmons, West Paris; Gertrude Curtis, Paris. Fourth—Grace Rankin, East Hiram; Dorothy Holmes, Buckfield.

Food Projects for 1933
"Know Your Groceries" will be given in May and June. This project has to do with the economical buying of canned and package goods—the sizes of cans in relation to their contents, how these products are graded and how to buy most advantageously. The information gained at this meeting alone will save the cost of Farm Bureau membership.

"Vegetable for Health II" will begin next year's work left off. There will be help in planning, canning, and garden budgets for those who wish it. There will be news of the latest discoveries about minerals and vitamins, and the relative merits of different vegetables. A demonstration of some new ways to cook the old winter standbys will top off the meeting. Meetings in this project will be scheduled in February and March.

4-H Club Work an Inspiration
After more years since, on an afternoon in late October, I was driving along one of the back roads in Madison, Somerset County. It was dusk and the surroundings, although in that locality often beautiful, were at that hour of the day very dark. I was not particularly allured by the time of year, but particularly allured by the headlights disclosed a group of children. The spot was two miles from my home. I pulled up beside them and they, in a friendly way, which had been looking pretty lively, for the moment were to rest. They were out of breath and glad to climb in and get a ride. It was before the epidemic of kidnapping. I had since had and I think some of these youngsters knew me, anyway. "We have been to the Club," said they, in answer to my inquiry. They were members of a 4-H organization and, as I remember it, had walked about four miles to attend an afternoon session and were now about half way back.

Having to get the reason for such extraordinary devotion, I asked what they had done at the club that afternoon. The balance of the time to their destination was occupied with their reply (much of the time two or three talking at once) and it was quite apparent that the event was not complete when we arrived at their home.

I have since been the guest of 4-H Clubs in Somerset, Kennebec and Aroostook Counties. I can never quite comprehend the enthusiasm which the leaders are able to arouse. In some way they get these youngsters as interested in tasks, ordinarily looked upon as irksome, as they would be in fishing, baseball or a picnic. The result is amazing: the girls become accomplished homemakers, learn to sew, can and cook. The boys develop into expert agriculturists and herdsmen. It is hard to estimate the good resulting to the individual and to society. And the devotion of these leaders is likewise not to be comprehended by ordinary reasoning. They sacrifice much in time and often help out meager club resources with their own funds. They must have an abundance of love for youth and a knowledge in part of the good accomplished, otherwise they could not keep so persistently at the task.

The 4-H Club work is only one of the many immensely useful Farm Bureau activities. When I get downhearted a mental review of what I have observed as the 4-H Clubs will always cheer me up. No state of society can be hopeless in which such work flourishes.

From the "Presque Isle News."

Carrot, Cabbage and Peanut Salad
1 c. shredded cabbage, 1 large carrot, grated or finely minced; lettuce, 4 tablespoons ground peanut butter, 4 tablespoons mayonnaise, 1 c. mayonnaise.
Mix cabbage, carrots and peanuts with mayonnaise. Serve on crisp lettuce leaves. If peanut butter is used, mix with mayonnaise dressing first.

"A home cellar with dirt floor and no furnace makes a good place to store vegetables," says R. M. Riley, instructor in horticulture, at the University of Maine. Root crops keep best if packed in barrels with sand or piled in piles of medium size and covered with sand. It is worse than foolish to try to store specimens free from disease of any kind. Temperature and moisture vary with different vegetables—onions, squash, pumpkins, and tomatoes require a dry atmosphere while the other common crops keep best in more moist surroundings. 32 to 35 degrees Fahrenheit is the best temperature at which to keep beets, cabbages, carrots, cauliflower, celery, onions, parsnips and rutabaga. The best temperature for potatoes is 37 to 38 degrees; pumpkin and squash, 45 to 52 degrees; 55 to 59. Ventilation is important to keep the vegetables in good condition. Avoid piling in too large piles or ventilation in the center will be poor and such diseases as blackheart of potato may develop.

There are plenty of cabbages, carrots and turnips in the cellar now. But how long will they keep? The way vegetables are stored determines in a large measure what is the best time to eat them. Mr. Riley has prepared a table next to this information of this subject in a bulletin "Storage of Vegetables." Copies may be had for the asking at the Extension office in South Paris.

Child Feeding
This project is offered to communities who did not take it in 1932. It consists of a series of two half-day meetings, each with a demonstration of delicious foods suitable for both children and adults. The discussion will center around the foods suitable for children of different ages, feeding schedules, and the methods needed to form good habits of eating.

TOWN BEAUTY AN ASSET

In spite of the apparent commercialism of the age in which we live, it is evident to any observer that the American people are developing a greater appreciation of the beautiful. This is not confined to the wealthier classes, but extends to the great masses in the towns and villages, and in the rural districts. New towns and new sections of the older ones are being laid out with wider streets with provision for larger lawns, more trees, shrubbery and flowers, and a more attractive setting generally.

New towns show better architecture and greater harmony with their surroundings, while unsightly yard fences have largely disappeared. The net results of all these modern developments is beauty. And aside from the satisfaction which it affords the eye, it pays in dollars and cents.

Beautiful cities, towns and villages attract people. They attract permanent residents, they attract tourists and they attract pride. It is natural that a person selecting a trading center will choose a town that is beautiful and clean in preference to one that is unsightly and dirty, if other conditions are anywhere near equal.

Therefore, it behooves the authorities of any community, as well as each individual citizen, to make the most of their opportunities for improving the appearance of the place in which they live. Beauty and cleanliness are a town's best assets.

Your friend is not the one who tells the truth about you, but conceals some of it. Bless his loyal heart!

—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Plans for a tuberculosis clinic in Oxford County are being considered at the present time and it is hoped that during 1933 a series of tuberculosis clinics can be conducted within the limits of the county. During the past eighteen months four such clinics were held in Brownfield, Dedden, Fryeburg and Lovell.

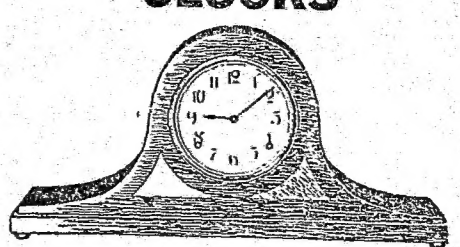

The money derived from the sale of seals and bonds is used for the elimination of tuberculosis in the State of Maine. The Maine Public Health Association during the past year has given the tuberculosis test to about 6000 children. All those who showed any reaction to the test were then given a chest X-ray. If this X-ray showed that any actual infection was present the patient was asked to attend the final clinic where they were examined, diagnosed and advised as to treatment by a tuberculosis specialist. In this way the disease is discovered in its early stages. Tuberculosis is curable if discovered early and the childhood type is very easily checked. Such clinics have been held this year in Cambridge, Bangor, Kennebec, Penobscot, Somerset, Waldo, Washington and York counties.

The fine work which Miss Abbie Buck is doing in the public schools of Maine toward teaching the boys and girls right health habits is also partly financed by the returns from the Christmas Seal Sale. Oxford County schools have received some of Miss Buck's attention this year and her work has been instrumental in securing correction of defects and in arousing an interest in better health habits.

A woman who stopped the Advertiser as an economy measure a month ago resubscribed recently. "We just had to have it," she explained. She is exactly right. We are all human and it is intensely human to wish to know what is going on, especially around home.

able plan for an easy way to get from conference to confidence.

ANDOVER

Dedicated to Mr. and Mrs. Wirt F. Lovejoy, at their golden wedding, Nov. 5, by E. M. Bailey.

Through sunshine and through stormy weather for fifty years you've walked together. For fifty years, in nothing less, you've kept the faith the plighted troth. Through storm and stress faced good or ill. With joy and hope, with courage still. Through space of time, that few may boast, And so you I drink this toast. From up to the love, life's richest treasure, Conquest love beyond all measure. Conquest as passing years unfold, Transmuting life's dreariness to gold, That as the days of life increase, Grow each with benison of peace, Until youth's rainbow dreams, time doth re-mold Into a golden wedding crown of gold.

THE WAR LEGEND

"A war to end war," so the legend said, To bring everlasting peace. When the whole world should live in brotherhood, And bloodshed forever cease. In horrors untold, our boys gave their lives, For a heaven and all our sins— We are glad they never knew. Our poor boys' deaths still pay for the war That was fought on a foreign shore. But we have grown wiser far—and, today, The legend teaches us no more. —ALMA PENDEXTER HAYDEN.

Lost 20 Lbs. of Fat In Just 4 Weeks

Mrs. Mae West of St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I'm only 28 years old and weighed 170 lbs., until taking one box of your Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and furthermore I've never had a hungry moment."

Fat folks should take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce as tens of thousands of men and women know.

For your health's sake, ask for and get Kruschen at L. V. Ashton's or any drug store—the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back.

A Golden Wedding Day

When you and I were youngsters,
Up in the State of Maine,
Our hearts were as light as the wind,
Singing a sweet refrain,
Christmas carols, for trouble
And little we knew of care,
Each sister and brother,
We kept good step,
With the time of time,
We all grew up with the hastening years
Sometimes with sunshine
And sometimes with tears,
Staying down there in front,
If ever you find his equal,
I tell you, you'll have to wait.
He was always the easiest fellow
That any of you ever saw,
He took good care of his own affairs
And never got into law.
For can tell of many a neighbor,
Their qualities, one and all,
Those who could fatten their wallet,
And the ones that had no gravel,
But no matter who needed a call,
He was ready to help them, one and all.
One day he got to thinking
"If the summer ain't got too late,
I think I'll try to find a mate,
So over the town he turned his feet
And he got as far as Hester's, 'Til he
He said with a smile, to his inside self,
"I'll make a trade with Antoinette."
Now Ant was a girl after your own heart,
A fine looking girl, with long arms,
And when Merritt took courage to call,
He was caught forever in his long arms.
The trap was set, and Antoinette
Got so entangled with Merritt's charms
That she was caught forever in his long arms.
They could not wait for June to come,
With birds and the honey bees hum,
For the wedding and having had to be done,
So with December's lowest sun
Each gave up over pondering the bill,
And so lived Merritt and his good wife,
With none of your modern kicking up strife,
Each knowing and keeping their right place,
For that is the way to keep young faces.
They've taken comfort all these years,
Round their fire with their social blaze
And Merritt says with a knowing eye
He wouldn't be king, No, sir, 'Til
Kings are "mighty small potatoes" he's been
And he'll stay a while longer in his own snug bed,
He has tugged and buckled with a right good will,
And down the rocky old hill.
The way grows easy along at the last,
When he and Antoinette have weathered the storm,
So they'll take a good rest from a work well
done,
And count their blessings in the setting sun.
Beloved by the friends and neighbors,
Children and grandchildren here,
For their dear old couple, a year
And may blessings innumerable flow unto them
From him who is guiding the footsteps of mon-

Original poem, written for the Golden Wedding, by Ellen M. Davenport.

In the little town of Albany,

Down in the State of Maine,

Where the people are always kindly,
Never looking for gain.

There has lived a dear old couple,
Beloved by all who knew them,
Known to all, both far and near.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Savin,
He familiarly known as Ned or Nettie,
She always active and never still.

He tilling his fertile acres,
Always driving a pair of steers,
And the sun has shown again.

For many, many years.

Fifty years is a long time,
For one young and looking ahead,
But it doesn't seem long when looking back
Across the years that have fled.

Long years have passed since the time they stood
On that day so long ago,
And took the vows that made them one.
For the future they could not know,
They have journeyed together side by side,
Through sunshine and storm and rain,
But the clouds have always broken overhead
And the sun has shown again.

There were born to them three daughters still,
Who have grown, as children will,
Till now with families of their own,
To them they are children still.

Forty-four grandchildren they now can boast,
With great grandchildren four,
Whose laughter rings in the same old room,
Whose voices are the voices of yore.

The years have come and all their faces have gone
Till now, when fifty are told,
And the western slope of the hill
They have reached their golden old.

We offer congratulations,
And heartily wish that they
When near the end of the road, might reach
Their diamond wedding day.

James Hebbard Aldrich After a long period of poor health, James H. Aldrich died at his home on Main Street, December 8. On November 20, he fell and broke his hip and from that time he grew weaker and failed rapidly. His age was 54 years.

The deceased was born in Jefferson, N. H., Feb. 16, 1848, the oldest son of Rufus Whipple and Asenath Lord Aldrich. When two years old, he went with the family to Wisconsin where they lived until the father's death. His mother returned east with the children and settled in Gorham, N. H.

For some years he worked as a stone cutter in Norway and Freeport and also ran a cobbler's shop and worked in the B. F. Spinnier & Co. shoe factory. He married Mary Churchill Penley, daughter of John Penley of Norway. A son Verne Aldrich of Auburn, and a grandson, Howard of Mechanic Falls, survive him. He was the oldest member of Oxford Lodge, F. and A. M., of Norway, of which he was master from September, 1894 to September, 1896. He was also a member of the Ark Mariners.

The funeral was held at Huff's Funeral Home, Saturday afternoon. It was attended by Rev. Ralph F. Love of Auburn and was in charge of Oxford Lodge of Masons, which rendered the service of the order. The bearers were Fred E. Smith, C. S. Akers, D. E. Lebrooke and Percy V. Fogg, all of Norway.

Those in town for the funeral were Verne Aldrich of Auburn, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Aldrich of Mechanic Falls and Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Aldrich of Haverhill, Mass. Burial was in Pine Grove Cemetery.

At the Congregational Church next Sunday, Rev. Rensel H. Colby will preach at the morning service on "Keeping Christ in Christmas." Sunday evening the first of a series of special monthly song services will be held. There will be special music of several kinds. Christmas carols will be sung and the minister will speak on "Christmas Songs from Many Lands."

Rev. Charles L. Krumm will preach at the Deering Memorial Church Sunday morning, subject, "Common Virtues Uncommonly Exemplified by Christ." Evening service at 7 o'clock.

Miss Julia P. Morton entertained the Philathea Class in her home at an all day meeting, Thursday. A covered dish dinner was served at noon.

The third degree at Mrs. Mica Lodge I. O. O. F. will be conferred by the Lewiston Lodge this Thursday evening, Supper at 6:30.

THE MERCHANT Dry Goods Store

HERE IS A TIP!
STRAIGHT FROM HEADQUARTERS OF A MAN WHO KNOWS
CHRISTMAS IS COMING,
THERE IS SHOPPING TO DO.
THE THRIFTY BUY EARLY,
IT WILL ALSO PAY YOU,—

Words of Wisdom from a man who knows—
—Shop Now!—It is a suggestion from Santa in the form of a thrifty tip which is particularly pertinent this year—Christmas is coming and now already is only a few short days away—So why postpone the selection and purchase of Christmas Gifts?—Why fail to take advantage of these shopping days and make selections from a wide range of practical and suitable gifts—This store is full and running over with good, honest, high-value merchandise and at prices lower than you have enjoyed in years—So shop now for Christmas—Don't resist that urge to give. This is a year when purse-strings should be loosened and everybody give most generously—Take a tip from Santa—Shop Now—Today! There is pleasure and profit in shopping at leisure.

ANOTHER TIP
Beginning with Saturday night, the 17th, our store will be open every evening until Christmas.

Say, Merry Christmas with a Merchant Store Gift, selected from this big stock of ours that offers so many, many gift suggestions with Useful Articles from every department of the store. Gifts distinctively for "Him", for "Her", for the Children and the "Little Tots" and things the "House" would like to have.

The Ready-to-Wear Department
Emphasizes useful gifts that bring joy and comfort to the recipient, as well as the giver, "that fadeeth not away."

Christmas Sale
Of long winter coats now in progress at prices 20 to 33 per cent less than regular value. This includes Children's Coats, also.

Give Her Silk Stockings
This is only one of
